Harlem Ambassadors Visit ORR

By Chris Martin

On March 31, the Tri-Town Trotters gathered in the Rochester Memorial School (RMS) Gym for practice as a team of volunteers from Tri-Town schools displayed some real talent on the floor.

Fourth grade teacher Craig Davignon buried jump shots from all over. Tony Cambra from the janitorial department at RMS showcased incredible finesse in a frame that would inspire fear in lesser opponents, but the team's secret weapon was RMS social worker Andrea Rand who led practice on Thursday. Ms. Rand played four years of varsity basketball at ORR and then moved on to Salve Regina where she played four years of NCAA Division III basketball.

Watching Ms. Rand make strings of several jump shots in a row, it's clear she hasn't lost much since moving on from Salve Regina, but her next opponent isn't from the NCAA. The Harlem Ambassadors are coming to town next week, bringing a team of professionals that combine showmanship, trickery, and basketball prowess like these players have never faced. Not only are the Ambassadors professional players, they're known for bending the rules in the name of fun. Adults will recognize familiar gags like hiding the ball, tackling opponents, and distracting the referee. Basketball fans shouldn't fret. The team will display an amazing knack for blind passing, long range shots, and exhilarating slam dunks.

The Ambassadors play over 200 games per year, following their mission to present wholesome family entertainment and promote the values of staying in school, staying off drugs and fostering racial harmony. The team presents as many as 94 "Stay in School, Stay off Drugs" youth programs each year and team members are willing role models for young students.

Don Bamberger, president of the Mattapoissett Lions Club led the effort to bring the Harlem Ambassadors to town and he's hopeful the event will raise $1,000 for Tri-Town schools. The event is ideal for the whole family. "This is entertainment. This is not a basketball game," Mr. Bamberger said.

When asked about his preparation for the game, Mr. Davignon says his last game was when the RMS teachers and staff played the 6th graders. "The kids like to see that side of us. It's good for them to know we aren't always serious and that we like to have a good time." Ms. Rand agrees that the kids are used to seeing the staff dressed up and acting professionally. It's good for them to see the human side of the adults on staff, she says. When asked about being made to look silly by the antics of the Ambassadors, Ms. Rand said, "It's totally worth it.

Marion Election Mostly Shoo-Ins

By Laura Pedulli

Marion voters will have few choices to make when Election Day rolls around May 20. With the exception of the Planning Board, all positions are uncontested.

Selectman Stephen Cushing and Town Clerk Ray Pickles are facing no competition in their re-election bids, so unless they are defeated by a write-in candidate, they will continue in their roles for three more years.

The Planning Board, which is in the process of bringing a new Neighborhood Overlay District (NOD) bylaw to vote at the May 16 Town Meeting, has attracted the interest of four individuals for three seats. Re-election candidates Jay Ryder and Jay Crowley hope to remain on the board for additional terms, while Patricia McArdle and Edwin North also hope to capture a seat.

Chairman Jay Ryder, a longtime resident who joined the board three years ago, said he hopes to hold onto his seat to finish what he started. "My job is not done," he said, referencing his work on the NOD bylaw. "I felt when I ran three years ago that the Town of Marion has given me so much over the years and I wanted to give back. I still feel that way," he said. "The town needs volunteers and leadership and I hope to fill those roles."

Mr. Ryder added: "I laud all the candidates that are running."

Julia (Jay) Crowley is also seeking to retain her seat on the board.

lot of work. I thoroughly enjoy working with the people on the board. We don't always agree, but we all want what's best for Marion," she said. In particular, Ms. Crowley said she wants to continue assisting the board with its work on the NOD bylaw. "I'm also interested in protecting the harbor," she said, noting her past efforts to prevent industrial uses on the harbor, such as oyster shucking.

Patricia McArdle is a former Planning Board member who did not seek re-election last year. However, she said "unfinished business" has prompted her to seek a position on the board once again.

Ms. McArdle hopes to play a role in drafting a Master Plan for the town. "The last one Marion did was in the 1960s. I want to help get out an updated one, with a clear definition of the character of the town," she said, saying that wants to ensure that "development comports with the character of Marion." The necessity of a Master Plan also stems from it being a frequent requirement for grants, she said.

Speaking on the proposed NOD bylaw, Ms. McArdle acknowledged that she has "mixed feelings."

"The concept and reasoning behind it are fantastic... It would be a great tool to have... However, the way it is written currently, there is too much discretion for [Planning Board] members to determine what developer's site is going to look like... That's okay with a well-rounded board, but you have to look at it with the worst case scenario," Ms. McArdle said. She suggested tightening up the language to create "more controls".

Edwin (Ted) North, a member of the Marion Capital Committee, also aspires to join the Planning Board. He said current board members encouraged him to pull papers due to his frequent participation in Planning Board meetings as a resident. He most recently spoke about exterior branding on stores during the Cumberland Farms hearings last year.

"My real interest is protecting the Route 6 corridor from less than admirable development," he said. He commented that branding and signage on chain operations "is not much different than a billboard."

"My basic tenor is don't trash Marion," he said, noting that he feels Marion is a unique town with special amenities.

A plan for Cumberland Farms to expand its retail and gas operations at 406 Wareham Street is moving forward after all.

Last October, the store had appealed the Marion Planning Board decision on September 7 to deny its site review and special permit applications for a larger, 3,593 square foot store with two additional gas pumps. However, according to a new proposal dated March 23 by Marco, Errico, Emmer and Brooks, Cumberland Farms and the applicant have mutually agreed upon a settlement of the Land Court lawsuit.

As such, Cumberland Farms is coming back to the Planning Board on April 25 with a new proposal that addresses many of the Planning Board's concerns expressed during hearings that took place in the spring and summer of 2010.

One of the major changes is that the proposed Cumberland Farms would be a two-story structure with a "village-looking design that reflects the traditional character of the town through attention to scale, proportion and context." Unlike the previous proposal, the Cumberland Farms also would provide landscaping within the parking areas, include a handicapped-accessible sidewalk along Wareham and Front Street, and install a 10-bike capacity rack near the store entrance.

These measures were in part the response to the Planning Board's efforts to make the Route 6 corridor more reflective of Marion's character and encompass Smart Growth principles. Planning Board Vice Chairman Tom Magauran, in particular, is pushing for more two-story structures in the business district, which the proposed Neighborhood Overlay District in theory would help support due to allowances of greater density and encouragement of mixed-use operations.

Other alterations include curb cut changes to eliminate the one close to the Front Street/Route 6 intersection. The northerly curb cut would be used as an entrance only, and all deliveries would take place from Front Street away from the traffic. The issue of safety of "confusing" enter and exit lanes, and inadequate queuing, were among the reasons that Cumberland Farms' initial proposal was denied.

Cumberland Farms also is reducing the size of its originally proposed canopy from 110 to 80 feet, and more importantly, will offer three self-service pumps instead of the four it initially sought.

If approved, Cumberland Farms' current 1,737 square foot operation would be completely razed, and all the current tanks would be replaced with one new 20,000 gallon and one new compartmental tank of 20,000 gallons

Despite efforts last year to change Cumberland Farms into a 24-hour operation, it would maintain the same hours from 5:00 am to 12:00 midnight.

Overall, Cumberland Farms is requesting approval of the following:

- A special permit to construct a new 3,542 square foot convenience store, with a 2,360 square foot second floor area.
 - A Special Permit from the board for a lesser front setback for construction of a new canopy over gas islands.
 - A Special Permit to reduce parking spaces from 19 to 17.
 - A Major Site Plan review for a proposed use of a convenience store with permitted gas sales.
- Chairman Jay Ryder said he could not comment on Cumberland Farms' proposal until the public hearing takes place later this month. Interested Marion residents are encouraged to attend the hearing, which is scheduled to take place during the board's April 25 meeting at 7:00 pm.

The bulk of the meeting focused on funding considerations for two items: the replacement of a 25-year-old Fire Engine and road improvements and rehabilitation of town roads.

Fire Chief Andrew Murray and Charles McCullough, Chairman on the Capital Planning Committee, approached the board to discuss the deteriorating condition of Engine Number 1. The Fire Department had contracted out a Fire Apparatus Evaluation and Report on the engine by AJL Associates, which found "alarming deficiencies."

Chief Murray projected images of the interior of the fire engine, including photos of oil leaks, rust and rust holes, a rotted tank support, and delaminating steel. He said for a truck that holds more than four tons of water, tank support is critical to the safe operation of the vehicle.

He said "alarming issues" regarding the braking system have come to light. "Without a good braking system, we are in big trouble," he said. The front suction pipe is "on the verge of busting and being completely inoperable and unusable," he explained.

Mr. Gagne voiced concern about personnel safety, referencing a situation in Chicago where a fireman lost his life due to failing brakes on an engine. He said fixing up the truck would be a "waste of money."

"A truck that rotted, we're not going to be able to bring back," he said, adding: "This is a serious situation." Mr. Gagne said that orders for new engines can take a year, so action on the matter should be imminent.

Mr. McCullough said that the issue has been on the radar of the Capital Planning Committee for five years, and "the time has come" to deal with the matter.

Chairman Collyer, a firefighter, relayed his own experience with Engine Number 1 failing to operate during a fire. "I cringe at the thought of that happening again," he said.

Selectman Randall commented that the public only could see the red and shiny coat, but "doesn't see the rust and danger." Selectmen Randall and Silva both supported replacing the truck.

The second item requiring attention regarded a plan to improve and rehabilitate town roads. Mr. Gagne began the discussion by reading a letter from the state government announcing that state transportation and infrastructure aid, or Chapter 90 funds, will increase 29 percent statewide. As such, Mattapoisett is certified to receive $229,165, which is $40,000 more than expected.

With Highway Surveyor Barry Denham on hand, the Board looked at the funding mechanisms to support road improvements for North Street, Center East, Center and the Mattapoisett Neck areas of town. The total cost would be $4,016,133 for repairs, which Mr. Gagne said could take 20 years but recommended a shorter eight year plan that would call for $400,000 to $500,000 per year to be funneled to this area. He said these monies would derive from Chapter 90 funds, as well as local dollars.

"The streets in town are in desperate need of attention," Mr. Gagne said.

Mr. Denham said that work on town roads should be over the long haul so his workers do not excessively tie up streets.

Looking at both of these capital needs, Mr. Gagne showed the Board and attendees the annual debt service requirement from the most recent auditor report. He said even with these new expenses, the payment schedule for other debts is on schedule so that the debts will have a negative balance effect on the tax base. In other words, he said, "We would not be building something huge that would bring a huge spike to the tax bill."

"If we're not negatively affecting taxes, then we're way ahead of the curve," Selectman Silva said.

Chairman Collyer explained that the town "had taken stock in property" and is anticipating to net two-thirds to three-quarters of a million dollars on the sale of 18 parcels of land by auction. He said this money will "cut the debt requirement in half."

"We're not selling the farm, but this will help defray the cost of capital projects," he said. Selectman Randall added that the transfer of property to public hands also would lead to added revenue sources for the town.

The Board agreed to approach town residents at

CAT IN THE CRATE

Getting my cat in the crate to take him to the vet is a traumatic event for both of us. Any suggestions?

There isn't any way to reliably win this contest.

A few hints:

Using an airline kennel from a pet shop. A cardboard box just won't work. Bring the kennel out from its storage spot days before your vet visit so the cat gets used to it and isn't immediately sensing that trip to the vet is upcoming. Put the cat in a bathroom or other small room without beds to hide under. If your first attempt at placing the cat in the crate with either head first or hind feet first is unsuccessful, wrap the cat in a towel and then put the towel and the cat in the crate.

the Annual Meeting about the need to fund these capital expenses, with clear information on how to go about it.

The next agenda item involved a discussion led by Selectman Silva on the Marine Advisory Board's work on a Waterfront Management Plan, which delineates recreational uses tied to particular areas of town water. He sought and received approval from the Board to ask the MAB to identify areas inappropriate for aquaculture due to conflicting recreational use.

Several attendees at the meeting had questions related to aquaculture, but Chairman Collyer stressed that a different public hearing will be held regarding aquaculture guidelines recently drafted by the town's aquaculture committee. He asked interested parties to relay their concerns then.

In the Town Administrator's report, Mr. Gagne said Mattapoisett is generally in a better position than other local communities because it has $21 million in unrestricted aid, of which $400,000 is in the budget. "Other towns are more subsistent to aid than the town of Mattapoisett," he said.

Mr. Gagne said work to revamp the assessment structure has led to increases in the tax base, and also noted that payment in lieu of taxes from the state for the Nasketucket Reservation adds to town coffers.

Overall, he lauded the work by the Board of Selectmen, Finance Committee and School Committee, which is allowing a balanced budget to be presented at Town Meeting. Efforts to modify health insurance agreements in recent collective bargaining negotiations, he said, made a "tremendous" impact. In the past, typically health insurance costs rose about $300,000 per year, but the compromises in the negotiations will result in only a $60,000 increase for 2011.

"The unions deserve great credit," he said.

The work by town officials, union and non-union workers "is the main factor why you'll have a balanced budget and no layoffs at the town meeting," he said.

In notes, the Board announced:

- The next Board of Selectmen meeting will take place on April 12 at 7:00 pm.
- The Conservation Committee will host an Annual Spring Cleanup day on Saturday, May 14 at 11:00 am at the town beach
- New landfill fees for brush disposal are in effect; the fee is $5 to $10 depending on the size of the brush load.

With nothing left on the agenda, the board voted to adjourn at 8:05 pm.

NOD Bylaw Headed to Town Meeting

Marion Board of Selectmen

By Anne Kakley

A regular meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen was called to order by Chairman Roger Blanchette on April 5, 2011 at 7:15 pm in the Town House conference room. Also in attendance were Selectmen Jonathan Henry and Stephen Cushing and Town Administrator Paul Dawson. The meeting was called to order after the Board held executive session to discuss strategy related to litigation.

The Board then approved the minutes of the March 15 meeting.

In an appointment, the Board met with Planning Board Chairman Jay Ryder and Vice Chairman Tom Magauran to discuss a proposed Neighborhood Overlay District (NOD) bylaw. Upon request from Chairman Blanchette, Mr. Magauran read the NOD bylaw in its entirety into record. Mr. Ryder then read excerpts from a blog, written by Mr. Magauran, outlining the proposed bylaw, which they hoped the selectmen would endorse for the 2011 Town Meeting warrant. The full blog can be found by visiting www.TownofMarionMA.blogspot.com.

The bylaw, according to Mr. Ryder, was created in response to a 1996 growth management report, and is intended to help Marion to conduct growth that is "consistent with rural seaside character". The NOD, according to Mr. Magauran, would give the planning board the "tools" and "teeth" to shape development in the area of Front Street and Route 6, thereby preventing "sprawl development".

Speaking to rumors that the bylaw would create a sudden increase in population in Marion and consequently strain town resources, Mr. Magauran insisted that the bylaw would not "open the floodgates" to development, but rather control commercial growth while providing the type of housing that Marion needs to increase – namely, 40B and elderly housing.

The new bylaw would allow up to eight units per acre within the outlined district, instead of the current zoning that allows one unit per acre. Mr. Magauran said that, although the district contains 40 acres, only 12 of those acres would likely be appropriate for higher density housing. New construction within this zone would have reduced setbacks, as low as zero setback to the rear, and project applicants would be encouraged to include shared driveways in their plans.

Mr. Magauran said the bylaw would create "good density for the community of Marion." If passed, he said, the bylaw would give elected officials the "flexibility" to create density "where it makes sense".

"There are some aspects to [the NOD] that are contentious," said Selectman Henry. "Along with density comes the need for sewer. There is a long list of people waiting to be included [in the town sewer]," he added, saying that the sewer plant – which may already need repair to meet current demand – would need expansion before further sewer connections could be made.

"It's the infrastructure and the unknowns surrounding it... it's the big unknown. Sewer is not the only infrastructure issue. There is an impact on the schools, and we do have the capacity... but we would have to add [teachers]," Selectman Cushing commented.

A similar bylaw was tabled at town meeting two years ago, with comments from town meeting members asking the bylaw to address zoning in the village area. Chairman Blanchette said that these concerns were not included in the proposed NOD. "[The suggestion has] been totally ignored," he said. "I don't see it here."

Chairman Blanchette also commented on the proposed density. "It seems to me that the eight units per acre is more than we need," he said. "Our Sippican School currently has empty classrooms that we rent out for a lot of money." He added that an increase in student population would increase the town's contributory rate to Old Rochester Regional as well. "The major, major issue is the sewer capacity. We simply do not have one sewer [tie in] for one unit."

"This is a long-term perspective," Mr. Magauran said, saying that additional capacity in the future could lift the sewer moratorium in Marion eventually, and the bylaw would be in place "to shape development", and the Board of Selectmen, as Water Commissioners, would have the final say in approving any sewer tie-in, and no one would be able to bypass others who have been waiting for sewer.

Chairman Blanchette summed up the Board's main concerns with NOD as being the sewer moratorium obstacle, the potential for school budgetary strains, and the failure to specifically delineate village zoning. Still, Mr. Magauran asked the Board for their endorsement of the article.

"I think the people of the town should be making this decision, not us," said Chairman Blanchette. "I would vote to put this on the town warrant and see what happens from there."

The Board then met with Alan Minard, Chairman of the Finance Committee, for a general Fiscal Year 2012 budget overview.

In his presentation, Mr. Minard said that the $16,817,954 budget was based on "very conservative estimates on what state aid will be." 33 percent of free cash will be used in the budget, and the level-funded budget will reflect a 2.15 percent increase over the FY 2011 budget.

Mr. Minard warned the Board that this would be the fifth year in a row that the town would be level-funding the budget. "We can't do it forever," he said.

Among the largest budgetary increases were: debt scheduling associated with the new police station ($136,500), group insurance increases ($120,000) and town insurance increases ($68,000).

"We are in much better shape than surrounding towns regarding not having to lay off anyone," said Mr. Minard. The Board thanked Mr. Minard for his presentation and expressed approval of the outlined budget.

Under Action items, the Board:

- Voted to approve a one-day, all-alcohol license to the Marion Social Club for a wedding reception on April 23.
- Voted to approve a one-day, all-alcohol license to the Marion Social Club for a family party on May 7.

Mr. Dawson then provided an overview of the 36-article Annual Town Meeting warrant and five-article Special Town Meeting warrant. Aside from some capital needs articles, including a request from the town for a new "jaws of life", Article 28 would contain the NOD bylaw discussed previously in the meeting.

Among the items on the special town meeting warrant is an article asking for $60,000 to cover excess snow and ice removal and $63,000 to cover unpaid school department expenses from previous fiscal years.

The Board voted to accept the 2011 Annual Town Meeting warrant and in a separate vote, accepted warrant for the 2011 Special Town Meeting.

federal aid, Superintendent Doug White and the budget subcommittee managed to keep class sizes comparable to last year's levels with the addition of a teacher. The budget represents a one percent, or $56,365, increase from last year.

To a group of about 25 parents and interested parties, Superintendent Doug White laid out the specifics of next year's school budget.

The committee was faced with the challenge of maintaining services in the face of dwindling federal stimulus funds. "Federal stimulus dollars are disappearing," Mr. White said, noting that only $41,557 in American Recovery and Reinvestment Act funds are available for the next fiscal year, marking a $187,189 decrease since 2009.

According to Mr. White, the "budget drivers" included increases tied to contractual obligations – namely, staffing, step and level increases, retirements and professional development. Also, the Mattapoisett School budget absorbed increased expenses in contracted services, including therapeutic services and telecommunications. Teresa Hamm, Director of Student Services, added that the district hired an additional speech language therapist to handle the needs of preschoolers at all three Tri-Town elementary schools.

However, a change in the delivery of special education services gave the committee more slack in building the budget. The change in special education services meant that the district would no longer pay $51,227 for "tuition residential" and $40,390 for "tuition collaborative" next year. Also, the budget will see a $16,205 decrease in costs for supplies, including $1,110 less in postage due to greater use of electronic communication tools.

The class sizes for both Mattapoisett schools will average 18.18 students per class. An additional teacher will be hired to maintain four sections next year for the third grade level, which is facing higher enrollment. However, Mr. White said that in FY '13, the schools would see one less teacher in part because the sixth grade, which is a large class, will move to the junior high level. But for the time being, "we have the opportunity to hold onto good class sizes," he said.

Chairperson Grace Knox commented on census trends showing a general reduction in the number of children in town. Likewise, Center School Principal Rosemary Brown reported that as of yet, only 57 children have registered for Kindergarten, although she expects that number to grow.

When asked by the public if Mattapoisett is considering adopting School Choice – a program which allows out-of-district students to attend Old Rochester Regional schools in exchange for $5,000 from the sending district – Ms. Knox said that the committee has not considered that route. Recently, both the high school and the junior high increased its number of School Choice spots to 40, which will bring in $200,000 additional revenue for those schools in FY '12.

Prior to the Board's budget approval vote, committee member Charles Motta urged parents to "get involved in education." For more information on the ORR district, visit www.OldRochester.org.

Randall Lane Access Disputed

Mattapoissett Planning Board

By Anne Kakley

A regular meeting of the Mattapoissett Planning Board was called to order by Chairman Thomas Tucker on April 4, 2011 in the Town Hall. Also in attendance were Board members Karen Field, John Mathieu, Ron Merlo and Robert McNamara, and Planning Board Secretary Tammy Ferreira.

The Board conducted a hearing for applicant Anthony Goulart, for a proposed ANR plan located at 19 Pine Island Road. Engineer Ken Ferreira represented Mr. Goulart in the application for the buildable lot, which met frontage requirements and would be serviced by town sewer. Satisfied that the driveway would be wide enough and after confirming the project had been approved by the fire chief, the Board voted to accept the ANR for "Little Pine Way", with a contingency that the project would include a 30-foot apron at the Pine Island entrance.

The Board then continued a public hearing for an ANR plan for applicant Thomas Grondski of 25 River Road. The hearing, which was continued from March 21, came three days after the Planning Board conducted a site visit at the proposed location on Randall Lane, behind Mr. Grondski's River Road home.

The project would create a buildable lot for Mr. Grondski's daughter and her husband. The main area of contention for abutting neighbors was the issue of frontage, road congestion and driveway accessibility.

Before the group delved into the application, however, longtime Randall Lane resident and road owner George Randall said that he believed Planning Board member John Mathieu should recuse himself from voting on the application. Mr. Randall, an elected member of the Board of Selectmen, said that since Mr. Mathieu is running against him for selectman, his presence on the Planning Board on an application involving Randall-owned land would be a "conflict of interest".

Despite support from Board member Robert McNamara, who claimed that Mr. Mathieu had been "very helpful" in proceedings, the applicant ultimately sided with Mr. Randall and Mr. Mathieu agreed to recuse himself from voting on the application.

Based on driveway accessibility concerns raised at the March 21 meeting, the applicants' land surveyor, John Romanelli, altered the lot shape to bring a proposed driveway closer to a well-established section of Randall Lane. However, the issue of accessibility and right of way became an exchange of nebulous information between the applicant's counsel and the abutters. Representing the applicant was Attorney Elizabeth Kunz, who claimed that a right-of-way had been granted to the plot holder in 1926, and that right-of-way ran all along the rock wall, despite the fact that the road had meandered away from the wall over the years. "Roads do that," Attorney Kunz claimed. "It all just comes together. They have a right to that road," she added.

Randall Lane landowner and Dartmouth resident Crystal Medeiros rebutted Attorney Kunz claim. "It is our contention that [the applicant] does not have adequate frontage," she said. Moreover, Attorney Jeff Sanders, representing direct abutters Christopher and Veronica Brockwell, claimed that any deeded right-of-way was never intended for the Grondski property (formerly the Shurtleff property), but belonged to the parcel to the left of the Gronskis.

In addition to contesting the applicant's right to a point of access on the lane, abutters once again raised concerns regarding the safety of the road, and its ability to sustain one more house.

Highway Surveyor Barry Denham was present to address these concerns. "[The lane] is extremely narrow," he said. "It's under 16 feet as far as the travelable portion of the road goes." Despite the road's designation as a private road, Mr. Denham said that the town plows it in compliance with the town's private roads maintenance bylaw.

Chairman Tucker asked where the snow goes on the narrow lane once it is plowed, and Mr. Denham said that because road was so narrow, the town had to "send the loader in there" to remove the snow.

The Board resolved that there were too many inconsistencies in the information presented at the public hearing, and determined that the referenced 1926 deed would have to be pulled and reviewed by town counsel before progress could be made in the hearing.

"No one has proven to me there's frontage," said Chairman Tucker.

"And no one has proven to me there isn't frontage," added Mr. McNamara, who added: "There is a little give and take. It's a small neighborhood and I hope everyone gets along... Let's see what that 1926 deed says about right-of-way."

The Board agreed to conduct a title search and consult town counsel for advice on the parcel's access to Randall Lane. The hearing was continued to May 2 at 7:00 pm.

The Board voted to adjourn at 8:24 pm.

Board Discusses School District Budget

Tri-Town Board of Selectmen

By Laura Pedulli

A regular meeting of the Tri-Town Board of Selectmen was called to order by Rochester Selectman Chairman Naida Parker on April 4, 2011 at 7:00 pm in the Old Rochester Regional (ORR) Media Room. All three Tri-Town Select Boards and Town Administrators were present, as well as Superintendent Doug White, ORR Business Administrator Katie Iernio, District Facilities Manager Steve Murphy, and the ORR District School Committee.

As the first order of business, the board approved the February 2 minutes.

The first agenda item involved a discussion on the Fiscal Year 2012 ORR budget. Mr. White presented an Excess and Deficiency (E&D) analysis report detailing the school district budgets for the past three fiscal years. The school district was recently audited for FY '10, he said, which lead to a discovery that the district was not properly reimbursing spouses of employees for healthcare costs. The superintendent said that with the audit complete, district schools now are in better shape for future planning.

Mr. White explained that federal stimulus monies soon will dry up, and other forthcoming increases will "right off the bat" put the district $600,000 below level funding for FY '13. However, he said that the district can derive savings from personnel changes, and recognized Mr. Murphy's work in finding cheaper ways to run the ORR facility that has led to significant savings.

Mr. White said that as part of the district's recently approved budget, an E&D fund has been set up that would essentially put $1,204,047, or 5 percent of the budget, aside for emergencies.

Rochester Town Administrator Richard LaCamera took issue with putting that money aside. "For the last 10 years, we've never come close to $1.2 million. It's worse during this economic time. The towns have stepped up to the plate to fund the budget, and we're struggling to keep everything together," he said.

Also at issue is the unexpended balance at the end of the year, which was $819,674 in FY '10. Selectman Parker said that last year, Rochester Memorial School absorbed an additional $84,000 loss, which she feels was unfair given that so much money was unspent at the end of the year. "Here's the need, and there's the greed." Taking money from the elementary school is unfair," she said. "You need to relook at the budget."

Mattapoisett Select Board Chairman Jordan Collyer echoed some of those comments. "Why did we have such an excess last year, which the district walked away with?" He suggested looking at this fiscal year and the previous two fiscal years to determine the budget's "burn rate" and assess whether the planned budget will be in line with the actual budget this year.

Mattapoisett Selectman and former Financial Committee member Paul Silva, however, offered his viewpoint that not putting five percent aside is "poor management". He said an unanticipated favorable transportation contract in part accounted for the high unexpended figure last year. "We need to look at both sides of the story," he said.

Roger Blanchette, Marion's Select Board Chairman, concurred. "We should be thankful to have this [fund]," he said. "I only look at this as a positive thing."

In response to Selectman Parker's earlier comment, Mr. White said that he personally reviewed every line in the budget to ensure students' needs were met. "Nothing is unnecessary in this budget. We're advocating for what the children need here," he said.

Mr. LaCamera then brought up two updates. One, he said that the minimum contribution for Rochester is incorrect because the state entered the student population incorrectly into the system. He said Mr. White and administrators are working to rectify the error, which he said would increase Rochester's budget by $40,000, reduce Mattapoisett's school budget by $50,000 to $60,000 and slightly lower Marion's budget. He said such changes would need to be authorized by state legislators.

Secondly, he said that Rochester is being assessed 100 percent of retirement costs for eight former employees. These costs should be equally distributed throughout the region, he said. The Tri-Town board discussed referring that issue to town assessors for investigation.

The certified ORR FY '12 budget will need two out of three towns to support it to pass.

In other news, Marion Town Administrator Paul Dawson reported that a subcommittee on ORCTV negotiations continues to make progress. He said that ORCTV has provided all information requested on their operation, and noted that there is some thought that ORCTV could move back to the high school (where it originally was stationed) due to high leasing costs. In the meantime, Mr. Dawson said he is working to get additional information from ORCTV about its educational contract with ORR.

"Hopefully by the time we meet again, we'll have better recommendations and hone in on the final points," he said.

Michael Gagne, Town Administrator, announced that Mattapoisett is looking for fire, police and DPW personnel throughout the Tri-Town to participate in a free training on work-zone safety being offered at no cost by UMass Lowell. The all-day training is scheduled for the beginning of May, he said, and would require 20 people to proceed.

The board voted to enter executive session at 8:03 pm to discuss the selectmen strategy for ORR teacher negotiations.

School Report

April Fool's Article Tricks ORRHS

By Anne Smith

Yes, the math department at Old Rochester Regional High School, and by extension the entire school, was fooled by an elaborate online April Fool's joke. But first, I must mention a few bulldog news items.

First, congratulations are due to the Old Rochester Regional Drama Club, which finished its production of "Chicago" this past weekend. As an attendee of the Friday evening performance, I can honestly say (and I'm sure that the rest of the audience will agree with me) that the show was fantastic. The student techies and performers have been working very hard the past few months, and it certainly paid off. Now we just have to wait until the fall of next year for the next drama club production, which director Mr. Paul Sardinha announced would be the play entitled "Triangle," written about the tragic fire at the Triangle Shirtwaist Company. Many students at Old Rochester Regional are familiar with the fire because it is a topic extensively covered by the United States history classes. In fact, some of the honors classes have had mock trials about the fire. It will be very interesting to see how this familiarity and knowledge of the event will translate to the production of the play and its ticket sales.

Second, if you watch the local news on channel 10, you might have noticed a segment about the Community Service Club at Old Rochester Regional. The feature was about CSL's recent clothing drive for pediatric patients in Afghanistan. As you might have heard before from the school report, the students were successful in collecting clothes and soccer balls, but unfortunately, they do not have sufficient funds to ship the donations to the hospitals. The channel 10 news coverage showed interviews with some of the senior members of CSL, as well as Ms. Lee Shionis and Ms. Mary Cabral, and requested that philanthropic viewers make monetary donations to the CSL group so that the items might be delivered. Roughly $1,000 is needed. Those who are interested in helping CSL ship their donations should send an email to the CSL advisor, Ms. Cabral, at mcabral@orr.mec.edu.

Third, seniors at Old Rochester should be getting ready for their last month of high school. The full calendar – with dates such as senior assembly, senior prom, and senior awards night – is posted on the school's website. The schedule for senior exams is also posted online in a

But remember, that is at the discretion of the teacher, so be sure to check with him or her to see when you will be taking your final!

And finally, the Lighthouse Fund (which was also present in the auditorium lobby during the "Chicago" production) is hosting the 2011 Taste of the Town at the Mattapoisett YMCA on June 17, 2011. The Lighthouse Fund, which has recently begun giving scholarships to Old Rochester Regional students, is also responsible for allocating funds for teachers and classroom projects. Taste of the Town is one of the many ways that you can support the Lighthouse Fund and, in turn, education in the Tri-Town area.

Now, to tell the tale of the April Fool's joke. The math department had become aware of a news article detailing some new legislation that had been made in the United States House of Representatives, and which reassigned the number pi (commonly recorded as 3.14) to 3. The rationale given by one of the representatives was that the fifteen year-olds of the United States were ranked twenty-fifth in the world for mathematics, and this was because performing calculations with pi were too difficult. To solve the problem, pi would become 3, which is an easier number to work with in calculations. Teachers and students alike were very upset upon reading this article, particularly because pi has a soft spot in the hearts of Old Rochester students – every year, we celebrate March 14, known as “Pi Day”, and in the past there have even been pi reciting contests. But just days after news of pi’s reassignment had spread throughout the school, and much debate had taken place in classrooms over the merits of reassigning pi (or legislating math, as the article said), it became known that the article was actually an April Fool’s joke that had mistakenly made its way into a legitimate news source. Pi has not been reassigned, nor ever will be. It is safe! The entire student body was relieved to hear this, particularly a group of students who had expressed interest in protesting the government’s supposed legislation.

Lacrosse Debuts at ORR

By Joan Hartnett-Barry

Introducing a new high school varsity sport takes years of planning, money, coaches and talented athletes. Lacrosse debuts as a new sport at ORR this season, with both a girls and boys varsity team competing for the first time, ever.

This is a watershed event for the Southcoast Conference, which will officially add lacrosse in the spring of 2012. Both Bourne High School and Fairhaven High School's lacrosse teams have given their one year notice of resignation from the Maritime Conference to join the SouthCoast Conference, making lacrosse an official competing sport in the SouthCoast Conference.

Five teams are needed to introduce a new sport into the conference, which allows the teams to set a regular schedule of games. The five high schools with lacrosse teams include: Apponequet, Bourne, Fairhaven, ORR and New Bedford Vocational Technical/New Bedford High School.

"It's difficult to add a new sport like this, with the budget as it is," said Bill Tilden, Athletic Director at ORR High School, "but with funding from Old Rochester Youth Lacrosse (ORYL) club, we're off to a great start." The ORYL agreed to fund the two ORR lacrosse teams for three years, then taper off with a lower percentage for the following three years. The club's goal was to have their members play lacrosse in high school and college.

Mr. Tilden estimated the initial start up cost, per team, to be between $15,000 to $18,000. "We needed to buy uniforms, balls, nets, materials to line the fields, and transportation is always a large portion of the bill," he said. Because the boys' team involves physical contact, a trainer is needed to reduce the chance of injuries.

"We've had two scrimmages, one at Fairhaven High and one at New Bedford," said Rhonda Reints, coach of the girls' varsity team. "We held our own against a team that is two to three years old. We have eighteen on our team and New Bedford has over forty, so we scrimmaged with the junior varsity in the first half and the varsity in the second half," said Ms. Reints. During scrimmages, no score is kept due to the continual swapping out of team members. All the high schools have recently added lacrosse, with Bourne having the oldest team, added four years ago.

"Three quarters of the athletes who signed up for lacrosse were not planning to sign up for a spring sport," said Mr. Tilden. "The other quarter came over to lacrosse from baseball, tennis and track... so the other teams lost some athletes," he said.

For the girls, lacrosse is another option for a team sport, along with field hockey. "Tennis and softball are more individual sports... if you drop the ball, it's over, but in lacrosse, there are eleven other teammates who can pick up the dropped ball," said Ms. Reints.

"My goal isn't to win but to get the team to enjoy the game... it's new and exciting and all about speed and skill," said Ms. Reints. "We have a great group of girls who are fun to be with," she added.

Fundraisers will be held in the near future to start building a reserve to assist ORR in fully funding the sport six years down the line.

To the Editor:

How wonderful to come home to a lovely surprise at my door!

I would like to thank the children of both the Center and the Old Hammondton Schools for the beautiful Easter flowerpots full of goodies. The theme was planting seeds and watching them grow like friendship.

Included in each pot was a lovely personal letter from the students. It was addressed to a "Special Friend." I'm happy to say that I now have two very special new friends at the Hammondton School and I want them to know that I will be thinking of them as the seeds continue to grow and bloom.

The parents and the teachers are also to be thanked for raising such thoughtful and caring children. Your guidance of these young folks is commendable.

With sincere appreciation,

Alicia Sullivan

To the Editor:

I would like to commend those who have written recently in regard to the Neighborhood Overlay District (NOD) coming up at our May 16 Town Meeting. In the meantime, please go to the town website, www.MarionMA.org, and click on the planning board link to learn about why we need this by law. I would urge you to educate yourselves about the facts of the proposed NOD and not just the fears that are being spread.

Here are some of the issues as I see them. I have read the articles pro and con, spoken to Planning Board members and 2015 committee members and suggest that all of you do the same. Marion has struggled in recent years with debt overrides, deferred maintenance of roads, sewer, water, civic buildings, declining business climate especially in the village center, and has spent a great deal of money fighting 40B, Dunkin Donuts and now is facing a large expansion from Cumberland Farms. I have lived in the village for close to 40 years and frequent the businesses here and I share the concern for their future viability. Creating the NOD reflects the village character and brings more reason to shop and live in Marion. The recent U.S. census shows a decline in population from 5,123 to 4,907, with a majority of that loss amongst the young. We are in fact an aging population here and the young cannot afford our housing costs as a single family home is the only option and apartments and condos are scarce. We need all age segments to grow and thrive with mixed use and affordable housing for our teachers, police, fire, DPW and anyone else who works in Town. Even our school numbers are down – 452 is our present enrollment with capacity for 660 students, at 18 students per classroom, and can expand to 800 with 22 per class.

We also need a sound tax base with, again, mixed use and that means attracting the right kind of businesses – not chains. This NOD bylaw allows for that and gives the Planning Board flexibility and tools for smart growth options and, yes, that includes higher density like the Village already has. Building out to a maximum of 312 houses, as has been stated, is absurd and no one is proposing that nor wants that. Up to now Marion has done reactionary ad hoc zoning changes trying to put up road blocs to development. This NOD is a tool for the Planning board to use to direct future growth that creates neighborhood and community and continues to contribute to the essential Marion village character that we all want to preserve.

American Legion Meeting

The monthly meeting of the American Legion Florence Eastman Post 280 is held on the third Wednesday of each month at the post hall at 3 Depot Street at 7:00 pm.

The April 20 meeting will include a review of the estimated annual budget and discussion of a potential shortfall if the bake must be cancelled in May. The bake is scheduled on August 7 but, at this time, the availability of the venue appears to be somewhat in doubt. A decision about the event will be made in May.

Information on the meetings, programs and hall rentals may be obtained by calling 508-758-9311.

Woman's Club Annual Meeting

The Mattapoisett Woman's Club will hold its annual meeting on Thursday, April 21 from 11:30 am to 3:00 pm at the Kinsale Inn, located at 13 Water Street in Mattapoisett.

Guests are invited to join the Mattapoisett Woman's Club at their annual meeting and installation of officers. A luncheon will be served for $20 and there will be a cash bar. This is a good time to meet some of the members of the club and to learn about the various events they host throughout the year. Those interested in attending should contact Lois Ennis 508-758-2188.

Maconchu Club Meeting

On April 16 at 7:00 pm, Jim Stevens of "Gifts to Give" in New Bedford will tell the members of the Maconchu Club of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church about the purpose and work of the organization. Their slogan is to "Repurpose, Recycle and Reuse", and Jim will explain how "Gifts to Give" is able to do that and offer help to many people in this area.

Join the Maconchu Club in Reynard Hall at the church to hear about the good work the organization does and a chance to ask Jim questions afterwards. Coffee and refreshments will be enjoyed following the program.

Shakespeare at RMS

The Rochester Memorial School (RMS) Drama

Club will present As You Like It by William Shakespeare, adapted by Ms. Danni Kleiman. Due to the ongoing construction to the facility at 16 Pine Street, Rochester, the play will be held at Sippican Elementary School in Marion this year.

Costumes are once again being created by Ms. Kate Tarleton and Music Direction is provided by Ms. Chris Williamson. The Rochester Memorial School community is very fortunate to have such a creative drama team.

The in-school performance will be held Thursday, April 14 at 1:00 pm at the Sippican School.

The evening performance for the general public will be Thursday, April 14 at 7:00 pm at the Sippican School, 16 Spring Street, Marion. Please park either on the street in front of the school or use their rear parking lot. Please keep the bus loop clear. A $7 donation will be collected at the door.

Plumb Corner Easter Egg Hunt

Plumb Corner Tenants will host their Annual Easter Egg Hunt on Saturday, April 16. The hunt will proceed at 10:00 am, so please do not arrive late. Please bring your own basket or bag and be sure to open your eggs before leaving as some will hold a paper prize. There will be egg collection spots throughout the mall for your empty eggs. Following the egg hunt there will be face painting, cookie decorating and a craft. This is a rain or sun event.

Rochester COA Candidate's Forum

The Rochester Council on Aging will hold a Candidate's Forum on Thursday, April 7, at 4:00 pm at the Senior Center located at 67 Dexter Lane.

All candidates running in the upcoming Town Election on April 13 have been invited to speak at the Forum and to take questions from the participants.

Birth

Gina (Rullo) and Ed Hebert of Mattapoisett., MA are pleased to announce the arrival of second daughter, Genevieve Elizabeth and first son, Andrew Edmund, who were born on February 23, 2011. The twins have a big sister Grace. Genevieve and Andrew's proud grandparents are William and Helen Rullo of Hollisopple, PA and Edmund and Elaine Hebet of Fairhaven, MA

Obituaries

Patricia (Conway-Loxley) Manuel, 73, died Wednesday, March 30, 2011 at Tobey Hospital in Wareham. She was the wife of the late Silvino "Sal" Manuel.

Born in Malden, the daughter of the late Mary (Lundblad) and Joseph Conway, she was raised in Medford graduating from Medford High School.

Her secretarial career spanned many companies, including; Cornwell's Dept. Store in Wareham, Milton Bradley Co., in Springfield, the U.S.A.F. in Europe in Wiesbaden, Germany, Frances Associates and Thompson Consultants in Marion and the school departments in Wareham and Rochester. During the 1970's, Mrs. Manuel and her family owned and operated the Highlands Ski Area in Northfield, NH where they cultivated many friends and happy memories.

She leaves behind her much loved family, Joseph "Bud" Loxley and his wife Leah and grandson Evan; her brother, Joseph Conway; her sisters, Claire Smith and Betty Ann Roderick all of Wareham; her brother-in-law, Howard Smith; her step-daughter, Laurie Hill and her husband Greg of Northfield, NH; her step-son Donald Manuel and his wife Shirley of Bellingham, WA; and their children; five nephews and two nieces. She was predeceased by her brother, the late Robert Conway.

Arrangements were by the Chapman, Cole & Gleason Funeral Home, 2599 Cranberry Highway (Rt. 28), Wareham. Donations in her memory may be made to the RMS PTO Playground Fund (for Rochester Memorial School playground), 16 Pine St., Rochester, MA 02770 OR Robert C. Conway Memorial Fund c/o T.D. Bank, 237 Main St., Wareham, MA 02571.

Mary Elizabeth Patnaude of Rochester, MA died peacefully, surrounded by her family, on March 31, 2011 after a long illness. She was the daughter of the late James Murray and Catherine Sklanski. She is survived by her son Edmond Patnaude and his wife Leith of Rochester, MA, a daughter Sandra Adam and her husband Roger of New Bedford, MA and two grandchildren, Sharon Pedro of Pawtucket RI and Michael Adam of New Bedford. Mary was the wife of the late Edmond Patnaude.

Mary was born in Saundersville, MA in 1925. She grew up in Fairhaven and spent the last 35 years of her life in Rochester, MA. She was a gifted craftsperson who worked as both a professional knitter and dressmaker. She received a number of awards at county fairs for her quilts. Mary loved music and dancing and taught line dancing for many years at senior centers throughout the tri-town.

A memorial and celebration of Mary's life was held April 6, 2011 at the Long Plain Baptist Church in Acushnet. Donations in Mary's memory may be made to Long Plain

Baptist Church, 1180 Main St., Acushnet, MA 02743

Arthur C. Rice, 85, of Mattapoisett died March 29, 2011 at Alden Court Nursing Home. He was the husband of the late Rosalie W. (Schofield) Rice.

Born in Lubec, ME, the son of the late Queenie (Rice) Tyler, he lived in Mattapoisett most of his life. Mr. Rice was formerly employed by Quaker Oats for 40 years in Maine and New Bedford.

He loved to quahog in Mattapoisett and was a great father and friend.

Mr. Rice served in the U.S. Navy during World War II. He was a member and Past Master of the Washington Lodge A.F. & A.M. in Lubec, ME.

Survivors include three children, Christie DeCosta of Mattapoisett, Brian Rice and his wife Sonja of Florida and Vicki Rice of New Bedford; three brothers, Gary Tyler and his wife Joan of Northeast Harbor, ME, Richard McLeod of Las Vegas and Fredrick McLeod of Portland, OR; one sister, Judith Buell and her husband Joe of Fairfield, CA; 5 grandchildren, Kathy Peterson and her husband Shaun, Michal Gajewski and his wife Kate, Brian Rice and his wife Darby, Eugene Griffin and Stephanie Rebello and her husband Kevin; 11 great-grandchildren.

His Graveside Service will be held on Tuesday, April 12th at 3 PM in the Massachusetts National Cemetery. Arrangements are with the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home For Funerals, 50 County Rd. (Rt. 6) Mattapoisett. For on-line guestbook, please visit www.saundersdwyer.com.

EDITOR'S PICK OF THE WEEK

Old Dartmouth Recounted for the Kids

By Anne Kakley

So how much did the English pay for the parcel of land that they named Dartmouth?

Answer: "30 yards of cloth, eight moose skins, fifteen hoes, fifteen axes, eight blankets, two kettles, one cloak, two English pounds in wampum, eight pairs of shoes, one iron pot and ten shillings". This answer was brought to you by one dedicated teacher from Dartmouth, MA.

It's unusual that a history book may be as historical as its contents, but such is the case for Secrets of Old Dartmouth, by Kathleen Ryan Comiskey Roberts. The book, written by teacher Ms. Roberts in the late 1950s and originally published in 1963, has been studied by Dartmouth students for years. However, the book fell out of publication, leaving students to read old copies for many years before several locals, including a schoolteacher and the Dartmouth Board of Selectmen, initiated a reprint in 2010.

Illustrated by her seventh graders from the 1959/1960 school year, Ms. Robert's focused textbook is a glimpse at the daily operations of colonial life in Old Dartmouth, and the historical events that shaped our area.

Although Secrets of Old Dartmouth is not strictly Tri-Town, it does encompass the modern-day towns of Dartmouth, New Bedford, Fairhaven, Acushnet and Westport. Ms. Roberts explains the history of the area's settlers, industries and Wampanoag relations in a way that children can understand. She relates personal, modern-day experiences to the experiences of settlers, allowing the youthful audience to understand the challenges that their ancestors and forebears faced.

In 2010, this 146-page text was reprinted to include updated information on Dartmouth's population from 1790 to 2010, and other more recent contributions to the town. It starts with the culture of the Wampanoag, the arrival of Captain Bartholomew Gosnold, and the occasionally tense interaction that eventually molded our landscape.

Despite the fact that the book is geared for children, it is still a valuable resource for adults interested in learning more about their region. Ms. Roberts details the origins of area names, like Dartmouth, which was named after Dartmouth, England, from where Bartholomew Gosnold sailed. She also includes the story of the King Philip's War – simplified and made less violent for young readers – and the region's contributions to the country's struggle for independence.

Some of the most interesting parts to read are the sections on Old Dartmouth religion, law and punishments. In late 18th century Dartmouth, stocks and a whipping post were employed as punishments for villagers who broke the law. According to Ms. Roberts, a bell would sound, alerting the public to the impending spectacle, and children were even dismissed to watch as well.

Readers who are interested in learning more about the shipbuilding industry that towns like Dartmouth, Fairhaven and Mattapoisett revolved around, will find the "Shipbuilding" and "Whaling" section of this book an interesting read. In her research, Ms. Roberts shares the names of ships, their makers, and a simple overview of the whaling industry that made some SouthCoast families wealthy.

The best part about Secrets of Old Dartmouth is the work Ms.

Roberts did to preserve vignettes that would have otherwise been forgotten over the years. She relates the individual experiences of area men and women as they coped with English/Wampanoag scuffles, British raids, and the trials of Colonial life, making these struggles readily approachable for the young reader. It's easy to understand why this book remained in Dartmouth schools for so many years.

Pros: Very comprehensive, full of information that even an avid historian may not know, and approachable reading for grade-schoolers.

Cons: Would love to see a similar book written for adults.

Grade: A-

• Café Parlez' – The Café Parlez' selection for April is A Reliable Wife, by Robert Goolrick. When Catherine Land, who's survived a traumatic early life by using her wits, happens on a newspaper ad from a well-to-do businessman in need of a "reliable wife," she invents a plan to benefit from his riches and his need. Her new husband, Ralph Truitt, discovers she's deceived him the moment she arrives in his remote hometown. Driven by a complex mix of emotions and simple animal attraction, he marries her anyway. We will discuss this book on Thursday, April 28 at 6:30 pm. Books and audio books are available at the desk, or bring your own copy.

• Gifts to Give – Last year, knitters in the area created 185 scarves to send to soldiers in Afghanistan.

This year's project is for children. Crafters can either knit a premie cap to be donated to a local hospital, or a winter item (hat, scarf, or mittens) to donate to "Gifts to Give", who will then distribute them to area children in need. Patterns and some materials will be available at the desk. Please leave a name and contact information when you pick up directions. The deadline for all projects is November 18, 2011. Knit as many items as you wish. Some of the crafts are ideal for beginners. More materials will become available during the 6 month period of the project. For more information, or to donate money for supplies, please ask at the circulation desk.

MOVIE REVIEW

Who You Gonna Call

By Rob Gonsalves

In theory I'm all for a horror movie like Insidious. It's cheap (a reported $1.5 million), it gets its scares the old-fashioned way (the only blood in the whole film is the gory handprint of a demon), and I could see very few, if any, effects that were born in a computer. Director James Wan and screenwriter Leigh Whannell may have made the original Saw, thus unleashing a seemingly ceaseless franchise on the public, but they aren't entirely about torture porn; their previous collaboration was 2007's fatally silly Dead Silence, which also went in for old-school creeps and creaks. The best I can say of Insidious is that it's better than Dead Silence. I would like to encourage Wan and Whannell — as if they were hanging on my every word anyway — to continue in this splatter-free vein by handing Insidious a glowing notice. But I can't. Maybe next time.

The demons in Insidious, or malefic spirits, or whatever they are, could be whipped up in a couple of hours in time for a Halloween party. In a way, that's kind of cool. Wan and Whannell seem to have studied what kind of visuals will freak us out when barely glimpsed. They want to take us back to the makeup-chair sorcery of the old Universal monster classics. And it works, at first, but boy, would I like to see Insidious without the soundtrack. Here, as in Dead Silence, the score SHRIIIIEKS every time a paranormal menace pops up, and it gets to be EVERY BIT AS ANNOYING as it is to READ THIS SENTENCE. If, as a director, you feel you need booga-booga music this badly to put over a scare, it may be time to rethink your approach. John Carpenter, the modern master of the musical "sting," used it sparingly and thus more effectively. Even the famous shock in 1942's Cat

People when the bus hisses into the frame would've been diluted if something like it had pierced the soundtrack every ten minutes.

What we have here, as in Paranormal Activity (whose director, Oren Peli, is a producer here), is not a haunted-house movie but a haunted-person movie. A little boy lapses into a coma, or something; it's unlike any coma the doctors have ever seen. One scene, wherein a home-care worker teaches the boy's mother (Rose Byrne) how to operate his nasogastric feeding tube, carries an authentic pang of helpless despair. We read it in Byrne's face: So this is how it's going to be. Byrne also keeps hearing and seeing threatening things, though her husband (Patrick Wilson) doesn't. Nevertheless, he acquiesces and they move out of their newly bought house into another. The weird sounds and sights continue. Experts must be called in, in the form of psychic Lin Shaye and two goofballs who reminded me of Dwight and Ryan from The Office as ghostbusters.

Shaye, perhaps best known for her farcical turns in comedies by the Farrelly brothers (though she was also in the original Nightmare on Elm Street), gives a fine serious performance here as a perfectly pleasant, non-batty lady who happens to have expertise in the spiritual or astral world. But the script turns her into Explainy McExposition, and during a key scene she is asked to sit wearing a gas mask connected to her assistant's headphones — this woman truly has no embarrassment switch. Neither do the filmmakers, who try to make Tiny Tim's "Tiptoe Through the Tulips" a manifestation of dread (as if it weren't creepy enough) and set up the last act as an astral quest through a lot of fog, during which some ominously grinning, Lynchian spirits come from everywhere.

Sadly, I don't think this sort of literalized, physicalized terror works as well in the spectral genre as it might have decades ago. Especially when the head demon, or hungry ghost, or whatever, looks like what he's called in the credits: "Lipstick-Face Demon." In that respect, Diane Ladd smearing Revlon all over her face in Wild at Heart comes out the scarier by far. Most of David Lynch's stuff does, really, despite Wan's wan attempts here to emulate the master. Then again, Lynchian horror derives its charge from the inexplicable. In Inland Empire, the sight of rabbit-headed people exchanging gnomish pronouncements in a static wide shot while a laugh track bellows irrelevantly is terrifying (and funny) in a way that the rational waking-life brain can't pin down. Wan and Whannell would spend ten minutes making Lin Shaye explain it all, and then send Patrick Wilson out into the fog to punch the rabbit people.

dangers they face, including entanglement in fishing gear and boat strikes. She will describe how some become "cold-stunned" in the late fall, washing ashore on Cape Cod beaches. Ms. Dourdeville will also discuss the Sea Turtle Sighting Hotline for Boaters, which she runs in conjunction with Massachusetts Audubon Society's Wellfleet Bay Wildlife Sanctuary. Come and learn how boaters can be important participants in helping to protect and understand more about our local sea turtles.

Marion Bird Island Tour – The Marion Natural History Museum will host a tour of Bird Island as an afterschool program on April 27, from 3:30 to 5:30 pm.

The terns have not yet arrived at the island, so come explore it before they arrive. The group will learn something about the history of the lighthouse and the island with the Marion Harbormaster's office. Space is limited and this program will close at 12 children total. Bring your own life jacket. No life jacket, no ride! This program will last an hour longer than normal, 3:30 to 5:30 pm. Pick up will be at the Harbormaster's office. Cost is $4 for members and $6 for non-members. Registration forms are available at the Museum's website: www.MarionMuseum.org. Please register with payment to hold a spot.

Jillian Marie Jensen, facilitator of the Magic of Music Scholarship Program (MOM) started the non-profit project in 2007 when she won the title of Miss Massachusetts Teen America 2007. The program was initiated to help kids who needed some financial assistance in taking music or fine arts classes.

Since the program began, more than $6,000 in scholarships has been provided to kids in the community who have needed financial assistance with lessons, instruments and other fine arts needs.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Regarding your upcoming challenges, the Aries Lamb should very quickly size things up and allow you to make the best possible use of whatever resources you have on hand. Good luck.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You rarely blame others for missteps that worked against you. But this time you need to lay out all the facts and insist that everyone acknowledge his or her share of the mistakes. Then start again. GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You might want to start making vacation plans. And don't be surprised by unexpected family demands. Maintain control. Be open to suggestions, but don't get bogged down by them.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Work with both your Moon Child and Crab aspects this week to keep both your creative and your practical sides balanced. Your intuition sharpens, giving you greater insight by the middle of the week. LEO (July 23 to August 22) The Big Cat finally should have all the information needed to move on with a project. If not, maybe you'll want to give everything a new and more thorough check before trying to move on.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Too much emotional pain caused by someone you can't win over as a friend? Then stop trying to do so. You have other things you need to work on this week. Go to it, and good luck.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) It's a good time to reassess where and how your strengths can help you build, and where your weaknesses can hinder you. Remember to build on your strongest foundation.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) That personal matter that seemed so hard to deal with should be less confusing now. Don't rush. Let things happen easily, without the risk of creating even more puzzlement.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Change continues to be a strong factor in many important areas. Keep on top of them, and you won't have to worry about losing control. A personal situation takes on a new look.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A business offer sounds intriguing. But if you don't check it out thoroughly, you could have problems. Take a set of questions with you when you attend your next meeting.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Your self-confidence should be coming back. That's good news. But it might be a bit over the top right now, so best to let it settle down before you start making expensive decisions.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Your life, your decisions. Good enough. But be sure you have all the facts you need to put into the decision-maker mixing bowl and hope it will come out as it should.

BORN THIS WEEK: You find much of your creativity with new people who give you much to think about.

the ages of 6 and 18 who love to sing may participate in the Magic of Music Idol Contest. Winners in three age divisions will be awarded cash prizes. A grand prizewinner will receive free recording studio time and the opportunity to record a song written and produced by Jillian Jensen and the SureFire Music Group, which currently manages the Varsity Girls.

Hailing from Boston, Massachusetts, the four girls of The Varsity Girls offer a fusion of differing musical backgrounds and unique vocals, which blend perfect to create their signature sound – a mix between Pop, Rock and R&B. Jillian Jensen, facilitator of MOM is one of the four members. The Varsity Girls will be on hand to participate in judging, hosting, and performing for the event. Loraë Tavares, last years' MOM Idol winner, will also perform and present her first single.

If you are interested in participating please contact Jillian Jensen at 508-763-2920 or e-mail her at MagicofMusic4U@aol.com. For more information about the Magic of Music Scholarship program or to download an Idol Application, refer to www.MagicofMusic.weebly.com. The contest deadline for submission is April 20.

Former Idol Winners will return to the stage to perform and area fine arts teachers, record producers and professional musicians will be involved in the judging of the annual contest.

Elks Student of The Month

The Elks of Wareham Lodge No. 1548 sponsors the Elks Student of the Month and Student of the Year Awards for students enrolled in local area high schools. The criteria used in nominating a student includes a student who excels in scholarship, citizenship, performing arts, fine arts, hobbies, athletics, church, school, club and community service, industry and farming.

The Elks congratulate senior Sarah Reusch of Rochester for being selected by the Old Rochester Regional high school staff for the month of March. Sarah is dedicated to her pursuit of excellence in the visual arts. Her creative, energetic and original imagery convey her point of view in a dynamic and engaging manner, and it goes without saying that she puts a great deal of time and energy into it. Sarah also greatly contributes to the Visual Arts program as an art aide. As an aide, Sarah has worked hard to hang student artwork in the halls and set it up in the display case. Sarah plans to go to art school to continue her studies in the visual arts.

Discover Vernal Pools in Mattapoisett

Vernal pools are a vital breeding habitat for resident amphibians and invertebrates such as wood frogs, spotted and blue-spotted salamanders, and fairy shrimp. The Mattapoisett Land Trust (MLT) is offering an introduction to vernal pools and instructions as to how to certify them through a workshop and field trip.

The experience will begin with a slide show presentation at the Mattapoisett Free Public Library on Wednesday, April 13, from 6:30 to 8:00 pm, where wetland scientist Elizabeth Leidhold will describe with exhibits and slides some of the animals that rely on vernal pools for survival. Then, on Saturday, April 16, at 9:00 am, she will lead the group to one of the MLT's vernal pools, probably Grace Pond off of Bowman Road, for a hands-on effort to identify some of the species in our own neighborhood. The state forms for certifying vernal pools will be provided to all participants so that they can learn how to properly complete the forms part of the Commonwealth's Natural Heritage and Endangered Species Program. This will be a wonderful opportunity for parents and children to learn together about the environment of Mattapoisett and how they can help protect it for future generations.

Both events are free and open to all, including residents of other towns. Attendance at the presentation is not required but is recommended for participation in the fieldwork on Saturday. Anyone interested in discovery should meet at the Dunseith Gardens, the Seahorse Park, on April 16 at 8:45 am. For more information call 508-317-5932 or email info@MattLandTrust.org.

Rochester Historical Society Bake Sale

The Rochester Historical Society will sponsor a Spring Bake Sale on Saturday, April 16 from 10:00 am to 2:00 pm at the East Rochester Church/Museum at 355 County Road, Rochester.

Dinner Show for Chloe

The Mattapoisett Lions Club is sponsoring a dinner show for Chloe at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Mattapoisett on Friday, April 15.

The doors will open at 5:30 pm for socializing and a baked stuffed haddock dinner will be served starting at 6:00 pm. Entertainment by the Showstoppers will start around 7:00 pm.

Tickets are $20 per person and are available in Mattapoisett at Pannino's, Seaport Village Cafe and Dunn Insurance. Tickets are available in Marion at The Bookstall and at Bev's Books in Rochester or by calling Clay King at 508-758-6401.

The net proceeds will benefit the Chloe Harding Fund.

Bone Marrow Drive for Chloe

A bone marrow drive to locate a possible match for Chloe, a Rochester infant fighting leukemia, is set for April 10 at the First Congregational Church, 7 Constitution Way in Rochester from 1:00 to 5:00 pm. No set appointment is needed, but calling ahead will help the Dana Farber Cancer Institute Donor Program Coordinators plan accordingly.

What to know before you decide to make this very important decision:

- This test is primarily a swab inside the mouth from the cheek.
- You must be between 18 and 60 years of age.
- You must be willing to donate if you become a match for another recipient in the donor registry.
- You must fall within the healthy guidelines. The weight chart and list of automatic deferrals can be found at www.dfci.org/nmdp. Click on "Forms and Materials" on the right side of the page and then click on "Additional Eligibility".

Please consider giving the ultimate gift and become a donor candidate for Chloe or another recipient that needs your help. Many volunteers are needed. Please bring your insurance card, because many Massachusetts Insurance Companies will cover the cost HLA (Human Leukocyte Antigen) testing. If you do not have insurance or your insurance does not cover the testing, you will not be required to pay.

If you are already in the National Donor Registry, please do not test again. This is very important, as it would show a second match, when there is only one.

Helping Hands and Hooves Fundraiser

Escape the cold weather and join friends and neighbors for an afternoon of good food and drink – all while supporting a great cause! Helping Hands and Hooves will be having a Beer and Wine Tasting from 1:00 to 3:00 pm on Sunday, April 10 at Turk's Restaurant (83 Marion Road, Mattapoisett). There will also be plenty of appetizers and a silent auction.

All proceeds will go to Helping Hands and Hooves, a non-profit organization based in Mattapoisett that is dedicated to providing therapeutic riding lessons for adults with disabilities who could not otherwise afford to participate.

Advanced tickets are available for $25 per person and are available at No Kidding in Mattapoisett, Matt's Blackboard in Rochester and Serendipity in Marion. Tickets will also be available at the door for $35.

If you have any questions or would like to help with a silent auction item please contact Debby Dyson 508-758-4717, Julie Craig 508-758-3279, Sarah Murphy 508-758-4266 or Marissa Hughes 508-763-9003.

"Life in Rochester 2011" Photo Contest

The Rochester Historical Society is sponsoring a Photo Contest featuring "Life in Rochester in 2011". The contest is open to Rochester residents and will run until June 1. Photo entries should be of any current Rochester subject and must be matted or mounted 5-by-7 inch or 8-by-10 inch (unframed). Name, address, phone number, subject and location must appear on the back of the photo. Prizes of $75, $50, and $25 will be awarded in each of two categories; students up to grade 8 and grade 9 to adults, amateurs only. A grand prize of $150 will be awarded for best photo in the contest. Entries may be dropped off at the Plumb Library or mailed to the Rochester Historical Society at PO Box 171 by June 1. All photos will become the property of the Historical Society.

This contest is supported in part by the Rochester Cultural Council, a local agency, which is supported by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, a state agency. For additional information, please call 508-763-2724.

Rochester Women's Club Meeting

The next meeting of the Rochester Women's Club will be Thursday, April 7 at 6:00 pm in the clubhouse located at 37 Marion Road. All members should bring their favorite main dish for a potluck dinner. The club will supply the rest. A plant exchange is also planned. Please

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

Each time you find the Aardvark you will also be entered in our monthly drawing for other cool Aardvark Prizes.

If you would like to enter the monthly drawing by mail, send your name, address and phone number along with the issue date and page number you found him in to: Wanderer - I Found the Aardvark, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoissett, MA 02739. Entries by mail will not be eligible for Aardvark Points.

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on "I Found the Aardvark"

In the March 31, 2011 issue the Aardvark was on page 1!
